BY HOWARD HANDLEMAN

TOKYO, June 12. - Allied troops pulled the props from under the Communist "Iron Triangle" in Central Korea today in what appeared to be the Reds' most damaging territorial loss of the war since the Inchon Landings last September. A front dispatch said Allied forces captured a large quantity of Communist equipment in the Kumhwa area, including the largest Red ammunition dump discovered to date in the Korean War. The dump contained more than 4,000 rounds of mortar shells and other projectiles. On the west-central front, this dispatch said, allied troops advanced almost two and threequarters miles without contacting any enemy forces. Eighth army infantrymen, led by tanks and armored vehicles, slashed through the bomb-leveled towns of Chorwon and Kumhwa at the base of the triangular supply and staging area. The United Nations troops pressed onto a plateau within the triangle in pur-

LECKFOR-SIGLOW LOVELY RITE

Choosing the traditional month of brides for her marriage, Miss Eleanor Louise Leckfor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael W. Leckfor, 315 East Reynolds street, repeated nuptial vows with Alphonse A. Siglow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Szczyglowski, 10 West Miller street, at a lovely ceremony performed Saturday, June 9, at 9:30 a.m. in the SS. Philip and James church.

Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski officiated using the double ring ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a creation of white lace over Skinner satin and net, with a high neckline, long sleeves of lace tapering to points at the wrist, and a hoop skirt with scalloped edging over net. White satin brocaded ribbon and rosary ribbon was used to tie the bridal bouquet of white roses and Queen Anne's lace which was fashioned in a colonial motif.

UPROOTING TELEVIEWERS

It doesn't herald, necessarily, a mass migration from living room to movie house. But something of a social up- lather of excitement, came from heaval is suggested by the plans for televising, or rather not televising, Wednesday's fight between Joe Louis and Lee eign office even while a labor gov-Savold at the Polo Grounds, New York City. Fight promoters and theater owners have arranged a telecast by which the bout will be excluded from home sets and dispatched by coaxial cable only to movie houses beyond range of potential ringside

The idea is to fill the vacant chairs in the Polo Grounds appearances, a spokesman was able by eliminating home set competition while still giving boxing promoters the profit derived from telecasting rights. Instead of commercial sponsors, the cash this time will come from distant theater owners who hope to get it back from televiewers uprooted for the evening from the ease of the living

While audiences in the television areas no doubt will survive a home blackout on the Louis-Savold fight, this ext periment apparently is to be the first of a series in "subscription television." College football may be the next sport to be restricted sharply under a program adopted by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The University of Pennsylvania, however, announces it ish mission of negotiators, indiwill not adhere to the football "moratorium," which seems to plete defeat on the far from comhave been adopted in the interest of box office receipts. Meanwhile, plans proceed for placing other forms of televised culture and entertainment on a "pay-as-you-receive" basis.

Such projects are not without legal involvements. Allotted TV channels are recognized as public property. Therefore it is not known whether the Federal Communications Commission could sanction telecasts to be paid for in the home through the medium of coin boxes, attached to sets, or other devices.

Subscription telecasts, if they come, would be invested with another revolutionary feature. They would come without commercials attached. What a boon that could be is known only to viewers exposed to the beery and boring blurbs which are the present price of admission to telecast sports events.

Perhaps this was only a bureaucratic delay, of the sort particularly prevalent in a country where officials who value individuals alone their health always say no to foreigners until the request has been submitted to a high official. Perhaps the story of a leprosy cure was another of the long series of Russian propaganda boasts.

India would have received a vastly different response by applying to the United States. WILL TRUMAN BE CANDIDATE

Political experts in Washington are about evenly divided home, always striving to be as one, on the question of whether President Truman will run for reelection in 1952.

One group of politicos believes that the world situation may be the deciding factor in the president's mind.

They say Mr. Truman will run again if he feels he's needed to continue policies to prevent a new world war.

Another segment of political observers is convinced that Mr. Truman would like to leave the White House because he is tired of the burden the presidency places upon him, and wants a quieter life. Still a third group feels that Mr. Truman may be persuaded to run by the Democratic party leadership. These observers say he may seek re-election only in an effort very little to command her effort to keep the party in power.

If Mr. Truman does decide to step aside, he will certainly the older parent then to satisfy have a lot to say about the party's choice as his successor. Some officials believe a "deal" may already be in the making with their upbringing. My bulfor the president to announce his retirement and urge Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as his successor. When the nation was unified from a loose-knit federation of states and principalities, the imperial regime embarked upon an expansion to the near east which was to have culminated in con-struction of a "Berlin-to-Baghdad" railway.

The project was clearly defined And while ostensibly a commercial and industrial enterprise, it was in point of fact the powerhouse of an aggressive imperialism which touched off both world wars.

In the final analysis, it was the ultimate dream of Adolf Hitler to join forces with Japan in India and the middle east.

Jim Marshall tells the story of a night when a Santa Fe train puffed into the Oklahoma station of Waynoka, just after the Panhandle branch was opened. It was a bitter cold, stormy night, and the station agent was distressed to note that a motherly old soul who got off the train obviously didn't know which way to turn.

"I'll take you to the nearest inn myself, ma'am," he volunteered, and led her to a hostel where liquor was flowing freely and several poker and faro games were in progress. "I'm afraid it's noisy, ma'am," said the station agent, "but it's the only hotel in town, and I'm sure they'll make you comfortable, for, as a matter of fact, I'm part owner here. May I have your name please?" may," said the motherly old soul grimly. "It's Carry Nation.

On another branch of the Santa Fe, recalls Marshall, a circus train was stalled on a siding. Three elephants managed to get their trunks, unnoticed, into the tender tank, and used up all the water giving themselves a shower. The train was stalled—until an ingenious Hindu mahout named O'Reilly uncoupled the engine and made the elephants tow it three miles down the track to a water

Elephants And Ethics

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.-The Senator I'd be scaredest of f I were Secretary Acheson, wouldn't be named McCarthy, Jenner, Hickenlooper or Wherry. He'd be named William F. Knowland, a moonfaced man from California, who is almost as big and placid-looking as an elephant, but also just as cunning, patient, and unforgetful.

Rudyard Kipling once said that if an elephant wished to catch an express train, the elephant would not hurry but would catch the train. Well, Knowland never hurries, but he's been trailing Acheson for over two years, learning many new facts about the Far East policy and forgetting nothing. As an indication of Knowland's thinking on the subject, here's a parable which he recently suggested to a visiting

Western Europe Conquered

In 1940 all Western Europe had been conquered by the invincible troops of Hitler, and the miserable remnants of the British Expeditionary Force lay hopelessly trapped at Dunkirk. At Hitler's side stood Soviet Russia, bound to the German nation by a solemn alliance; and in opposition to Hitler stood nothing but the indefensible British Isles which even then were being submitted to merciless and unprecedented bombardment from the air. In the above circumstances, the State Department dispatched a distinguished general to Britain where he strongly advised Winston Churchill to accept some British Fascists into the cabinet and to sue Hitler for peace. When Churchill bellowed something about fighting on the beaches, streets and landing fields, the State Department with drew further aid to Britain and decided to adopt a do-nothing policy unitl the dust settled in Europe.

Thus—as Knowland suggested—an imaginary Secretary of State might be reporting the fate of Europe if our policy toward Hitler had been similar to Acheson's Far East policy of 1945-50. Since I have paraphrased the Senator here, it will not do to take this as a literal translation of his thoughts about Acheson. Knowland is reserving final judgment until all the evidence is in, and he will then express himself in a comprehensive Senate-floor speech which, it's safe to say; will be an exercise in elephantine weight and force.

Young Philip Willkie, chief counsel for Senator Douglas' sub-committee on political ethics, tells a little-known story about his famous father, the GOP presidential candidate in 1940.

Back in 1920 the elder Willkie, then a Democrat and resident of Ohio, heard of a Democratic smear-campaign against Warren G. Harding, the Republican standard bearer. About 100,000 "biographies" of Harding—suggesting some irregularity in his racial background—had been dumped into Summit County, Ohio, much as the notorious "composite" photographs of Millard Tydings and Earl Browder were dumped into Baltimore last November. But Wendell Willkie and a friend discovered the fake biographies and destroyed them before the

One of young Willkie's fields of inquiry, of course, will be this perilous terrain where freedom of speech and press overlaps with freedom of slander. It will be his job as counsel, although he modestly refers to himself as the subcommittee's aide de camp) to explore this region and even to blaze new trails. Willkie, speaking only for himself, is inclined to be against such ideas as stricter libel laws and plans whereby the Federal government could be sued for slanderous statements made under Congressional immunity.

Willkie, who at 32 holds degrees from three universities, hopes to accentuate methods of positive reform rather than new prohibitions and penalties. He'd like to see all public servants take required courses compulsory examinations in political ethics. He believes that a standard code of ethics, printed and displayed all over town, would make it harder for the wicked to prosper and easier for the weak to go straight

Yes, but who studies these courses, takes these exams and swears by the code of ethics-the elected officials as well as the appointed A good guess is that here's where young Willkie runs into a resistance movement. He'll find Congressmen quite willing to prescribe doses of morality for the bureaucrats. But a code of ethics for practicing politicians? That's another story.

A Tribute - -To Our Neighbors

Those people who live next door or down the street a way or around the corner. Do you know them? Do you put yourself out just a little sometimes to make their lives more pleasant? A cheery "hello," a genial smile, an invitation to come in and sit awhile. These are the tiny miracles that make neighborliness blossom and grow into a thing of strength and beauty. Charity, they say, begins at home. Similarly, it is from your home that nextdoorness emanates. Let's all be good neighbors. Remember, there is no tax on your investment in friendship!

Darn! Another Cleaning Bill!

No wonder this young lady's so annoyed, what 'with cleaning costs where they are. To have one dress cleaned today costs almost as much as two would have cost not so long ago.

Don't blame the cleaner. Blame the dollar! In terms of what it will buy, the dollar is worth less today than ever before.

We are feeling the pinch, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses.

In spite of this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value.

No one approach can be counted on to do the job. Sometimes even explaining that other children don't like to be "bossed" will help. Fortunately, the experiences most children have in playing with others, plus assurance that they are liked as much as brothers or sisters, will insure the fading away of the "bossy" tendency.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, June 12 .- (INS)-There'll be a crinoline crop in the fashion field next fall!

Advance peeks at the autumn collections of New York's designers indicate it'll be as swishy a season of quaint skirts as the 1946 and '47 "new look" era.

Skirts for late day and evening -and some suit and daytime skirts -will be moderately flared and stiffened to give a bouffant effect. Some hoops will be used, and on heavier fabrics the hems will be lined with horsehair or crinoline. A few of the daytime suits in gray flannel will be completely lined with colorful taffeta, making slips or petticoats unnecessary. And the fanciest formals will be underlaid with as many underskirts as her person, and her pocketbook, will allow.

Nothing New In Russia's Note On Japanese Treaty

—State Department spokesman Michael McDermott declared today that Russia's new note demanding a four-power meeting on the Japanese peace treaty this summer "appears to contain nothing new."

McDermott said the note has just been received at the State Department. He indicated that the note is extremely long, and said no specific comment will be made until it has been thoroughly studied.

The Russians demanded that a meeting be held in July or August and rejected the U. S. plan for a series of bilateral treaties between Japan and her former enemies. McDermott commented:

"It appears to contain nothing new and continues to repeat the usual propaganda charges against the United States, other states which are cooperating in the drafting of the treaty and the people of Japan who have cooperated so willingly throughout the allied oc-

Mayor John F. Haven said he was not ready to vote on the problem. He said he desired more information on the question.

Councilman Richard Davis recalled to Mr. Medure that Council already was on record as favoring some kind of sound low rent housing, told of a recent conference with the School Board and County Commissioners relative to it, and then that he is not yet in a position to vote on a $3,000,000 proposition.

"Will Be Here To Vote" Councilman Albert A. Hoyland said that, in his opinion, all mem-bers should be present when a vote was taken, adding: "I will be here to vote my convictions. Mr. Hoyland referred to Couneilman E. Gene Schweinsberg's spokesman. He cited housing sta-absence. However, Mayor Haven tistics of Beaver and Mercer couneilman E. The arguments advanced as to why the city should ask the government for a housing project were largely a reiteration of statemetns made during prior meetings of Council.

However, Senator Samuel G. Neff and Peter Costello, United Auto Workers, took issue with a series of write-ups which appeared recently in The New Castle News. Neff criticized them severely, terming them "false propaganda.

Styled to stay ahead—Hollywood's famed Society of Motion Picture Art Directors selects the new 1951 Packard as the year's "Most advanced concept of automotive styling.

Now that you're buying for keeps"-

Buy the newest new car of them all!

As every thoughtful person knows: the car you buy today is a car you should be proud to own

In times like these, it's actually extravagant to buy a lightly built car that begs for frequent trading.

That's the big economy reason why so many far-sighted buyers are now taking the easy step up to their first Packard.

On every important point of comparison, it's the newest, most advanced car of the year. Beauty: Packard gives you exclusive, awardwinning beauty to keep it distinctive, regardless of its age! Performance: Packard gives you the peak efficiency of new Packard Thunderbolt engines, America's highest-compression eights-plusthe matchless smoothness and efficiency of Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive.

Riding comfort: Packard gives you a whole new concept of firm roadability and gentle smoothness with its famed "Limousine Ride." Precision-built quality: Packard gives you long-lasting newness. Fact: Of all the Packards built, in the last 52 years, over 50% are still in Definitely: It's the car you must see ... and the best time is now!

(INS)—Gil Turner, Philadelphia's S. Board of Trade young welterweight crown hope, places his undefeated professional career of 21 straight victories in jeopardy today when he signs to meet Charlie Fusari for a 10rounder July 9 at Shibe park.

Turner, a flashy whirlwind in the ring, scored his 19th knockout last night when he pounded rugged Rudy Zadell on his heels in the fifth round of their scheduled 10round windup last night to open the outdoor boxing season in Philadelphia.

Referee Pete Pantaleo called a halt in the one-sided fisticuffs when it was apparent that the tough Pittsburgh opponent could not defend himself against Turner's fierce onslaughts.
Zadell weighed 148 to Turner's 143½.

JOE LOUIS AND LEE SAVOLD, two aged heavyweights, the former a few years ago, the talk o' the world, and Lee, who sprang back into the limelight by flattening Bruce Woodcock, thereby annexing the British heavyweight crown, will battle Wednesday night, and it may prove a question of who delivers the first telling blow. Louis yearns to knock out Savold before the sixth bell rings while Lee also has hopes to dump the ex-champion of the world. They are carded to fight at New York's Polo grounds. . . . Back in 1930, Hack Wilson (former Ellwood Citian) slammed the ball out of the lot upon numerous occasions in an effort to break Babe Ruth's record run of three score in 1927. Then came Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics and Red Sox but Foxx fell two shy of the 60. Hank Greenberg, Tigers slugger, now a Cleveland Indians' owner, matched Foxx's record, and Johnny Mize, then with the Giants, gave it a try but subsided after poling 51 in 1947. The same year, Ralph Kiner finished the season with 51. This season Gil Hodges of the Dodgers is hopeful. He hit 32 last year. Gil first drew attention while attending St. Joseph's college at Rensselaer, Ind., and played for an Indianapolis factory team. Gil batted four home runs in one game against the Braves last summer, he being the only National leaguer ever to accomplish the feat.

IF THE WHITE (HOT) SOX win the American league pennant it would be natural for the other clubs in the league to seek legal help in determining if the "fair trade" practice has been violated by Mr. Frank Lane and Mr. Paul Richards.

Mr. Lane, while not a crooner, might be referred to in terms of "That Lucky Old Son," at least while the Sox are still singing a happy pennant tune. For Mr. Lane, who is the general manager of the Sox, has come up with enough trades—seven in number—to gain fame along with General MacArthur as an old soldier who never died-but just traded away. Mr. Richards, the pride of Waxahachie, Tex., comes in for his deals which have brought Chicago sox-cess at this stage. A glance at the present Sox roster and that of a year ago brings out a situation that might be described by the "any resemblance is purely co-incidental" theme. For out of a total of 38 players listed in the 1950 Chisox brochure,

White Sox Open Important Eastern Road Trip Tonight

By HOWARD SIGMAND

NEW YORK, June 12.-Paul Richards and his White Sox start lobbying for a new road winning streak tonight when they invade Washington for the first of an allimportant 16-game eastern tour.

Richards, who has pulled the right rabbit out of the hat all season, will be leading his phenoms into what could prove to be their biggest test. This trip may very well prove whether the leagueleading Chicagoans are men among men in the American league, or whether they must come down from their cloud.

White Sox Sparkle

On the surface it would seem that the two and a half game lead enjoyed by the Sox is a pretty fair indication that they still carry the spark that has ignited the postile spark that has been spark that has ignited the postile 1919.

The Bombers, who open a 13game home stand against the lowy St. Louis Browns today, have won 17 out of 19 at home. The Boston Red Sox, another good home team that proved to be a road bust, tries to better its third place position when it opens a stand at friendly Fenway Park tonight against the Detroit Tigers. Another American league game finds Cleveland at Philadelphia.

Dodgers at St. Louis

A novel situation exists in the National league, where the Brooklyn Dodgers, who head the parade by five and a half games, are worried. Chief concern of the Brooks, who open a 14-game swing in St. Louis tonight, is Don Newcombe's ailing shoulder. There is a possibility that the big righthander may miss his next starting turn. The week-long journey was made by Mary Gouse, 23, of Boiling Springs, and Florence Blank, 21, Springs, and Florence Blank, 21, Roth are student Son at Willow Grove.

Both are student July 26 After waving to spectators, they

"We took the vacation trip be-cause we wanted to be alone but everywhere we went photographers kept popping out of the bushes."

Partly to blame was the minor alarm set off when they were reported "missing" for 44 hours before a state police plane spotted them near Watsontown Saturday morning.

They left Renovo last Tuesday and took time out between drifting and paddling for an occasional swim. At night they camped out, armed with a .22 calibre pistol and an eight-inch hunting knife "to take care of snakes and wolves."

BATTLE OF THE CENTURY -THEIR COMBINED AGE 15 72, WITH JOE BEING 37 AND HIS FOE ADMITTING TO 35!

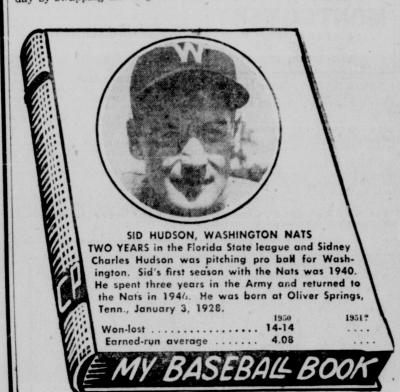

JUST BEFORE TELLING THE STORY of his nightmare experiences as a prisoner of Communist Hungary, Robert A. Vogeler signs the guest book at the National Press Club in Washington. With him are his wife and Carson Lyman, president of the club. Repudiating any confession he might have signed under the torture of the Reds, the American businessman told of being slugged, starved and dumped naked into a tub of ice water. He was recently released after serving 17 months. (International)
